GMCVO, on behalf of the Greater Manchester VCSE Devolution Reference Group, is leading on a project to implement the Memorandum of Understanding that sets out a way for the VCSE sector in Greater Manchester to be better engaged and linked in with the Health and Social Care devolution agenda in GM. As part of the project we have been working with the GM Mayor's Office. The Mayor's Office has identified 4 priorities that link closely with the Health and Social Care agenda. The GM VCSE Devolution Reference Group has also identified 2 areas of focus it would like to hear more about.

The 6 themes are as follows:

GM Mayor's Priorities

- School readiness
- Homelessness
- Work readiness
- Loneliness / ageing well

GM VCSE Devolution Reference Group Priorities

We hope to gather valuable insight into the contribution of the VCSE sector around these areas in order to better show the public sector within GM what good practice activities are being carried out across GM within our sector.

We would like to encourage and reward organisations to put forward their examples of successful projects and activities that relate to one or more of the above themes by providing a prize fund for the most 'innovative' projects submitted.

THE HERBERT PROTOCOL SCHEME LAUNCHED IN GREATER MANCHESTER TO HELP PEOPLE LIVING WITH DEMENTIA WHO GO MISSING

A scheme to help protect people living with dementia has been launched in Greater Manchester.

The Herbert Protocol, which is being rolled out across the country, is a form which carers and family members fill in with useful information that could help police officers track a vulnerable person if they go missing. The form, which will be stored in a safe and easily accessible place- either in electronic form or printed- will include locations they are likely to visit, their medication, general routines, a description and recent photo

Marion Coleman, dementia friendly communities co-ordinator for Alzheimer's Society in Greater Manchester, added: "We are delighted that GMP is introducing the Herbert Protocol. "People with dementia are particularly vulnerable if they go missing from a care home or another familiar setting.

"They may be trying to find their way back to their home or somewhere else from their past life that they have happy memories of but can quickly become confused and completely lost. "These new measures will really help police to act quickly to find someone who has gone missing and hopefully minimise the distress this can result in for the individual and their family."

The form, which should be readily available day or night, has proved to be successful in other police forces such as Cheshire.

Anyone interested in filling out a form can visit gmp.police.uk/Herbert
Officers will only ask for the form, or the information on it, if the person is reported missing.

For advice or information about dementia visit www.alzheimers.org.uk or find your nearest office at <http://bit.ly/2zyFZrd>.

REIMAGINING COMMUNITY SERVICES:

MAKING THE MOST OF OUR ASSETS - A REPORT BY THE KINGS FUND

The King's Fund have published a report on their research into the current state of community services and to explore how the health and care system needs to change to enable these services to meet the needs of the population now and in the future.

The report states that growing financial and workforce pressures are having an impact on the ability of community service providers to meet the needs of the population and to make a reality of the vision set out in the NHS five year forward view. Community services are often fragmented and poorly co-ordinated, and are frequently not well integrated with other services in the community. This results in duplication as well as gaps between teams delivering care.

The report highlights that there is a great deal of innovative work going on across the NHS and beyond to improve community-based care. This is mainly happening through innovative projects rather than system-wide transformations in care delivery. A radical transformation of community services is needed, making use of all the assets in each local community wherever these are to be found, breaking down silos between services and reducing fragmentation in service delivery.

The report concludes that the most promising possibilities in the short term are through sustainability and transformation partnerships (STPs) and accountable care systems (ACs), where plans have already been developed to strengthen community services and improve population health. More work is needed to ensure that all STPs offer a credible basis for improving care for their populations and strengthening services in the community, drawing on the design principles set out in this report.

INVITATION TO TENDER –

QUANTIFY THE IMPACT OF THE ONSIDE YOUTH ZONE NETWORK ON YOUNG PEOPLE

OnSide's vision is to give all young people somewhere safe and inspiring to go in their leisure time. OnSide provides quality, safe and affordable facilities – Youth Zones – that allow young people to spend their leisure time engaging in fun but productive activities, supported by positive adult role models, which improve their life chances, choices and opportunities.

Established in 2008 OnSide was the creation of Bill Holroyd CBE DL, former Chair of Bolton Lads and Girls Club (BLGC), and Jerry Glover MBE who had been the Chief Executive at BLGC for 32 years. During his time as Chair, Bill realised that other towns and cities would clearly benefit from a first-class facility like BLGC. Bolton has now been joined by Youth Zones in Birkenhead, Blackburn, Carlisle, Manchester, Oldham, Wigan and Wolverhampton.

The established Youth Zones currently serves 30,000 members and receive over 350,000 visits per annum across the network.

As the network of Youth Zones grows, it is becoming more and more important to quantify and articulate the impact of the Youth Zone network. Independently verified information is now required to present to stakeholders at a national level; the primary audiences being Government and local authorities. Secondly, OnSide aims to generate interest and support from private sector patrons and similar stakeholders in order to expand the Youth Zone network into new areas of the UK.

Closing date for receipt of tenders: Wednesday 14 February 2018

FREE CADDY LINER DELIVERY FOR ALL HOUSEHOLDS

It's now easier for Wigan Borough residents to recycle their food waste as a new free caddy liner delivery is introduced.

From January 2018 caddy liners will be delivered to all households by Wigan Council's waste crews meaning residents no longer need to purchase their own or collect liners from life centres or libraries.

It is hoped this will make it easier for residents to recycle their food waste in the kitchen caddy before putting it in the green bin. Recycling food will also save space in the black bin.

To let the crews know you need a new roll of liners, residents are being asked to tie a caddy liner to the handle of their green bin on their collection day. When the crews come to empty the bins they will leave residents a new set of liners.

Residents are being encouraged to contact the council to order a free kitchen caddy if they do not already have one so they can start to recycle food.

Paul Barton, assistant director for environment, said: "Thank you to residents for recycling more, recycling right as part of The Deal. We have already seen an increase in our recycling rates but we can still do more to reach our targets. "Recycling food and garden waste in the green bin is really important as it is composted and then reused which means it doesn't go to landfill. "Crucially, recycling correctly using all three recycling bins will save space in your black bin. The black bin should be a last resort for items that cannot be recycled.”

If you don't currently recycle food and would like to start you can order a kitchen caddy via My Account www.wigan.gov.uk/MyAccount Find out more about recycling at www.wigan.gov.uk/recycling

COMMUNITIES IN CHARGE OF ALCOHOL

Residents of Hag Fold are contributing their time as part of a pioneering programme 'Communities in Charge of Alcohol' which launches this week in Wigan. The programme aims get people talking about alcohol and changing their relationship with alcohol.

The champions will work together with others to decide what ways they could involve the wider community in reducing alcohol related harm, including getting involved with licensing decisions if this is important to them in their area.

Being delivered across the ten areas of Greater Manchester, the aim of the programme is to reduce alcohol harm in local communities. The success of the project will be measured over five years and will look at hospital admissions, ambulance call outs and levels of alcohol related crime. The latest statistics from Public Health England show that residents from across all ten areas are consuming more alcohol than the national average, which is putting our emergency services under great strain.

The new programme of work will be led by community volunteers called 'Alcohol Health Champions' who are being trained to talk to family, friends and colleagues about alcohol and health and to let them know what services and information are available, if people want support with cutting down. Wigan Council hopes to recruit a network of around 30 Community Alcohol Champions who live or work in the area to collaborate with the Wigan & Leigh Recovery Partnership who will be the local co-ordinators for the Alcohol Health Champion network in Hag Fold.

ANDY BURNHAM ADDRESSES CONCERNS ABOUT TRANSPORT WITH OLDER PEOPLE AT GREATER MANCHESTER EVENT

On 17 January 2018, members of the Greater Manchester Older People's Network came together to discuss and share their views on Age-Friendly Transport in the region. Speakers from Ambition for Ageing gave their perspective on the matter, and Mayor of Greater Manchester, Andy Burnham addressed some of the concerns that were raised by the network as part of an address. A panel discussion also featured representatives from the Greater Manchester Ageing Hub and Transport for Greater Manchester.

“Age-friendly transport is an extremely important issue for Older People that can make the difference between maintaining independence and social connections and becoming lonely and isolated. It intersects every area of peoples' lives. We hope that by working with Andy Burnham, Transport for Greater Manchester and other key partners that we can address some of our members' current concerns and help develop transport in Greater Manchester that meets the needs of all its citizens.”

(Liz Jones, Greater Manchester Older People's Network Development Worker, Macc)

Stephen Rhodes, Director of Customer Services at TfGM said: “Public transport can be a vital link for older people to get out and about to keep active and combat isolation.

At this event, we were able to listen to older people's concerns and issues, and we will continue to work with partners across Greater Manchester to remove any barriers to older people using the transport network.”

RESEARCH FOR THE FUTURE

This is a new campaign to encourage people living in and around Greater Manchester to get more involved with local health research opportunities

Research for the Future is supported by the NHS' research arm, the National Institute for Health Research, and enables people with a particular health condition to hear more about research going on into that condition. They can then decide if they would like to find out more or take part.

At present, Research for the Future is looking for people with diabetes; heart conditions, such as high blood pressure or angina; or respiratory conditions, such as asthma or COPD.

If you are over 18, have one of the conditions and live in or around Greater Manchester, visit researchforthefuture.org or text the word research and your name to 81400 to join Research for the Future and help the NHS find new treatments for your condition.

Katherine Grady, programme development manager, explains further: "People with a long-term health condition are often passionate about understanding their condition and are very willing to help researchers learn more about the best ways of treating it. However, it can be difficult to find out what research is going on locally and how to take part. "When people sign up to Research for the Future, we ask for some basic contact details and the types of research they are interested in – there are lots of opportunities to take part from filling in simple questionnaires to taking part in trials of new treatments. We then let you know what's going on in your local area so you can get involved if you want to."

Research has always been at the heart of the NHS. Through research they are able to continually improve treatments and discover the best ways to prevent, diagnose and manage illnesses. It also helps to understand how to best focus NHS resources where they will be most effective.

For further information and to get involved, contact 0161 206 3636, or email: Research.Future@srft.nhs.uk

NATIONAL APPRENTICESHIP WEEK 2018

Tuesday 6th March 4pm – 8pm Wigan & Leigh College, Parsons Walk, Wigan

The event is an opportunity to promote the housing and construction industry and the employment opportunities available, most importantly via Apprenticeships. We will also be looking for live opportunities to be available for people to apply for, and we will host some CEIAG support for potential candidates. As for last year we will be looking for pledges from partners to offer ongoing support and opportunities and will be tracking the impact of these over the coming year.

We will have a space for an introductory presentation that will run 3 times through the event; a space for interactive practical activity; and a market place.

We will start promoting the event in the next week or with an Eventbrite page to book on, but we need to start collecting details now of who will be hosting stalls etc.

So – my ask to you all is.....

- Confirm if you will require a stall at the event
- If you require a stall, provide any details of your requirements (eg access to power)
- Confirm if you will have live opportunities to apply for on the night – what sector, how many
- Promote the event to partners in your supply chain and encourage them to be part of the marketplace

If you could confirm the above by Friday 16th February to Beth Locke on b.locke@wigan.gov.uk we would be very grateful to enable us to plan for numbers.

TIME TO CASH IN OLD TENNERS

Old £10 notes must be spent by 1 March 2018 when they stop being legal tender, this is after the introduction of the polymer version in September 2017. However, the old notes can be ex-changed at the Bank after that date. The £10 banknote, is the first Bank of England note with a tactile feature to help blind and partially-sighted users.

RESIDENTS ARE MORE DIGITAL THAN EVER BEFORE

Wigan Council launched MyAccount in 2015 as a way for residents to access council services conveniently online and more than 100,000 people have now signed up, with almost 50 per cent of them making a transaction in the last six months. The award-winning local authority has worked hard to reduce digital exclusion to make sure anyone who can has basic digital skills by 2020, which not only provides opportunities for residents but also saves the council significant amounts of money.

Features like MyAccount and ReportIT app and exclusive programmes like the Duke of York's iDEA award has even led to Wigan Borough's digital exclusion rate being downgraded from 'medium' to 'low' on the UK Consumer Digital Index 2017, produced by Lloyds Bank

Lesley O'Halloran, assistant director for customer services at Wigan Council said: "Residents have been fantastic at taking up digital opportunities, which is clear to see with more than 700 people signing up to the iDEA course since we rolled it out at the end of 2017. "Digital services are cost effective and help us keep council tax low. In times of austerity, our council tax remains one of the lowest in GM thanks to residents doing their part of The Deal.

"In the next 20 years, more than 90 per cent of jobs will have a digital element and we want to ensure people are ready for this change. In addition, we want to bring convenience to residents as coming to life centres or calling isn't always their preferred way of interacting. "Our digital offer improves accessibility and makes services available 24/7 instead of just nine through five.

Residents have also been taking advantage of the council's ReportIT app, which allows people to report a number of community concerns such as anti-social behaviour, environmental issues, highways problems and more recently, social housing issues, seeing more than 24,000 reports to date.

Wigan Council was also the first local authority in the UK to provide online wedding ceremony bookings and has now furthered this offer by giving residents the ability to digitally arrange payments for birth and death certificates, notice of marriage appointments and payments for weddings.

Lesley continued: "We will strive to build on these amazing successes, which isn't just good news for the public purse, but will save residents' time and trips to their local life centre. "We encourage people to remain enthusiastic and keen to learn about our digital future."

For more information about council services, visit the council's website, which has also been placed in the top nine per cent of all local authorities nationally: www.wigan.gov.uk

ON YOUR MARKS...GET SET...IT'S LEIGH'S SECOND 10K

MP Jo Platt officially launched the countdown to the 2018 Leigh Community 10k by urging Leigh residents to take up the challenge and help make it an annual event. Last year's inaugural race saw 600 people of all ages and abilities taking part with more than £10,000 raised for chosen charity, Wigan and Leigh Hospice.

This year, organisers are aiming for 1,000 runners. Inspiring healthy lifestyles, FCR Events Ltd, Leigh Harriers, Nectar Creative, Rotary Club of Leigh, Time2Run Events, Wigan and Leigh Hospice and Wigan Council are all working together once again to put on the event with the support of Leigh MP, Jo Platt.

Jo said: "Last year was tremendous; there was a real buzz in the town centre. It would be great to get even more people taking part and cementing Leigh Community 10k as an annual event. "Wigan and Leigh Hospice is a charity close to many of our hearts and a worthy cause to raise money for whether you're running for fun or to beat your personal best."

The Leigh Community 10k, which takes place on Sunday 12 August in Leigh town centre, bolsters an already impressive calendar of running events in Leigh including the popular Flash in the Park 10k, Festive Flash Five and parkrun at Pennington Flash. All runners, joggers and walkers of any ability can join in the second Leigh Community 10k as long as you are over 15 years of age on the day of the event.

Standard entry fee is £17 or £15 if you run for a UK Athletics/ARC Running Club.

You can register for a place in the race at www.leigh10k.co.uk

DEVELOPING A MOBILE PHONE APP TO BETTER UNDERSTAND THE CAUSES OF DEMENTIA

Growing evidence suggests that inflammation in the brain could play an important role in memory loss and dementia. Animal research also suggests that pre-existing drugs developed to reduce inflammation could improve brain function. Manchester University wants to transform this research into better patient care but first a reliable way of studying how inflammation alters brain function over time is needed

As a first step the University of Manchester wants to develop a way of collecting information on changes in memory capacity over time – taking measurements on a frequent basis, beyond the scope of regular clinic visits. To do this the University of Manchester intends to develop a high quality, robust smart phone app to monitor brain function changes over time using a range of medically approved cognitive tests.

Researchers from The University of Manchester want to make sure that this app is simple and engaging enough for people with mild memory impairments to use on a regular basis, allowing researchers to monitor subtle changes in memory which would otherwise be missed in routine appointments. The University of Manchester wants to recruit a team of 6 public advisors with either experience caring for someone with Alzheimer's, or who are currently living with mild cognitive impairment to advise them on developing this app. Your role will be to help to ensure that the final output is relevant, simple and engaging enough to be used by a whole range of people – including early stage Dementia patients and those with mild memory impairment.

If you choose to take part in this study you will be asked to join for three workshops, all to be held at the University of Manchester, between February 2018 and July 2018.

If you have any further questions or would like to get involved, contact Dr Sarah Fox, on 0792 041 4289, or email: sarah.fox-3@manchester.

DATA PROTECTION: GDPR HOTLINE

The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) has launched a dedicated advice line to help small organisations prepare for a new data protection law.

The phone service is aimed at people running small businesses or charities and recognises the particular problems they face getting ready for the new law, called the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

The GDPR replaces the current Data Protection Act and comes into force on 25th May 2018.

Regulated by the ICO, the GDPR strengthens the rules around personal data and requires organisations to be more accountable and transparent. It also gives people greater control over their own personal data.

There are already resources on the ICO website (<https://ico.org.uk/>) to help organisations employing fewer than 250 people prepare for the GDPR. But the new phone line will offer additional, personal advice to small organisations that still have questions.

People from small organisations should dial the ICO helpline on 0303 123 1113 and select option 4 to be diverted to staff who can offer support.

As well as advice on preparing for the GDPR, callers can also ask questions about current data protection rules and other legislation regulated by the ICO including electronic marketing and Freedom of Information.

Information Commissioner Elizabeth Denham said: "All organisations have to get ready for the new data protection rules, but we recognise that the 5.4 million small organisations in the UK face particular challenges. "Small organisations want to be ready when the new law comes into force in May 2018, but they often struggle to know where to start. They may have less time and money to invest in getting it right and are less likely to have compliance teams, data protection officers or legal experts to advise them what to do. "Our new phone service and all the other resources already on our website plus even more advice and guidance yet to come will help steer small businesses through the new law."

In addition to the new phone service, the ICO has also announced plans to simplify its popular "12 steps to take now" graphic in response to calls from small and micro businesses that they need access to targeted information about how to prepare for the GDPR.

And the ICO is revising its simple-to-use SME toolkit – a resource used by around 9,000 businesses a month since January 2016 – into a GDPR resource that will allow businesses themselves to identify gaps in their own preparation for the new law.

Organisations that have yet to begin preparing for the law change can access a range of resources on the ICO's dedicated data protection reform web pages.

The "12 steps to take now" graphic has been viewed 73,000 times since it was updated in May and is the most downloaded document on the ICO website:

<https://ico.org.uk/media/for-organisations/documents/1624219/preparing-for-the-gdpr-12-steps.pdf>

ICO staff have spoken at nearly 100 stakeholder events where “getting ready for the GDPR” has been a key theme and around 10,000 people have viewed sector-specific webinars highlighting GDPR issues. By the end of the year, the ICO will publish a Guide to the GDPR. It expands the content of the current overview to make it a comprehensive guide along the same lines as the current Guide to Data Protection. ### AN IMPORTANT OPPORTUNITY FOR THE VCSE SECTOR TO INFLUENCE THE GM DIABETES STRATEGY

This is an important message from Naresh Kanumilli, Clinical Lead for Diabetes at the Greater Manchester and Eastern Cheshire Strategic Clinical Network requesting input from the VCSE groups on the draft GM Diabetes Strategy.

For and on behalf of Naresh Kanumilli, SCN Clinical Lead for Diabetes:

Dear Colleagues

I am writing to update you on some important work in relation to diabetes care in Greater Manchester and to seek your help in socialising a GM-wide strategy.

We all know that we need to improve diabetes care and reduce unwarranted variation. The Strategic Clinical Network (SCN) works to support the health and social care system in GM to improve care quality and patient outcomes in this regard across a range of health systems. With these points in mind, Jon Rouse, Chief Officer at the Greater Manchester (GM) Health & Social Care Partnership tasked the SCN with developing a Diabetes Strategy for GM.

The SCN worked with a network of providers, commissioners, patient representatives and third-sector stakeholders (details available on request) throughout 2017 to devise and consult on the resulting strategy, which is now attached. It aims to articulate 'what good diabetes care would look like in GM'.

Localities already have budgets and transformation funding in place within which they need to take forward diabetes improvement work. The GM Diabetes Strategy and additional resources are designed to support this work and provide a mechanism to help localities develop consistent high quality care across GM.

We believe the strategy presents a valuable opportunity for localities to evaluate their current approaches to diabetes in this context and, to support them in this regard, the SCN have developed a draft service specification. This can be used to benchmark locally commissioned services, identify gaps and develop improvement plans where required.

Moving forward, the SCN will develop plans from 2018 to support the diabetes care system in using these resources to deliver quality improvement. It will continue to host a Diabetes Network and governance structure which will provide a forum for considering variation identified in the system and opportunities for joint working to reduce or eradicate it where possible. We will make further contact regarding this in the New Year. We would welcome your involvement and support in socialising this strategy.

Go to <https://www.gmcvo.org.uk/important-opportunity-vcse-sector-influence-gm-diabetes-strategy> in order to access the relevant documents relating to the GM Diabetes Strategy and Service Specification located on the GMCVO website for ease of reference.

If you have any specific comments or feedback on the GM Diabetes Strategy, please forward these to Ewan Jones (ewanjones@nhs.net) by 31 January 2018. If you have queries relating to the draft Service Specification, please contact Krista Williams (kristawilliams@nhs.net)

at the SCN by the same date. We would be grateful if you would disseminate the attached documents throughout your networks prior to the development of our diabetes support programme in the early 2018. It would be helpful if you could cc Angela Devine (angela.devine1@nhs.net) in to any forwarded emails. Thank you and best regards. Naresh Kanumilli SCN Clinical Lead for Diabetes

WORKING BETTER BY WORKING TOGETHER

Progressive policy think tank, IPPR North, has recently published a report on civil society support in the north of England. Based on interviews with a range of VCSE infrastructure organisations – including GMCVO – the findings are very interesting and conclude there is a need for a more joined up approach across public, private and voluntary sectors.

CHARITY PROPERTY MATTERS SURVEY 2018

The Ethical Property Foundation is a UK charity which offers voluntary organisations free property guidance, advice and workshops. It offers a wide range of expert advice on legal issues and premises management working with property professionals.

The Foundation has just launched its bi-annual Charity Property Matters Survey 2018 which takes around 10 minutes to complete. This is the only sector-led property survey about charities' property issues.

You'll need a good understanding of your charity's current property position and any questions about the survey can be emailed to policy@cfg.org.uk

The Charity Commission is a partner in this research and urges charities to take part. To complete the survey, visit: www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/CPM18

NOMINATIONS OPEN FOR QUEEN'S AWARD FOR VOLUNTARY SERVICE 2019

The Queen's Award for Voluntary Service (QAVS) is the highest award given to local volunteer groups across the UK to recognise outstanding work done in their own communities. It is the MBE for volunteer groups.

Nominations for voluntary groups in Greater Manchester reached a new record UK high in September 2017 of 49 groups. These groups have since been visited and assessed by Deputy Lieutenant's. Their reports and citations are in the process of being submitted to the QAVS team in London with a formal announcement of winners on 2nd June 2018.

New nominations for outstanding voluntary groups in Greater Manchester are now being encouraged which can be made at any time between now and midnight on 14th September 2018 for awards to be made in 2019.

The QAVS nominations fall into one of 14 categories and any group doing volunteer work that provides a social, economic or environmental service to the local community can be nominated for the award. Each group is assessed on the benefit it brings to the local community and its standing within that community.

Guidance notes can be found on the government website; <https://qavs.direct.gov.uk>
